ZEALICON-2018

JSSATE, Noida hosts ZEALICON, an annual techno-cultural festival. It is a dynamic event bursting with youthful vigour, dedicated to the celebration of creativity and science. The hysterical face of literature, as well as popular arts, science, and technology, were all covered during Zealicon 2018. This edition of Zealicon promised all of the previous edition's trademarks. A slew of events where academicians demonstrated their knowledge and artists showcased their work. Zealicon served as a link between fantasy and reality by projecting the imagined gesture onto the real environment. Zealicon 2018 was a remarkable experience, creating an atmosphere of eagerness and cooperation, experience!! For all of those who were a part of this marvellous four-day gala. The festival got off to a fantastic start when the principal guest graced us with his warm presence during the inauguration ceremony, which included a diya lighting ceremony and welcome speeches. This year was particularly notable because we were the first in our college to launch the Zealicon app, which allowed us to receive daily real-time information on events. This ground-breaking concept sparked widespread interest and was a big success. This year's theme was "Gaming Euphoria." A variety of fun and adventurous technical events took place adhering to the theme. There were online events which went live before the fest began and continued throughout the duration of the fest. Errata, an online treasure hunt were one of these which experienced massive participation. During the fest, Robo-wars, Techno hunt, NFS- LAN gaming, CS Go and Rob Olympics remained among the most trending events. Overnight events like Technovision where participants witnessed the thrill and excitement of an overnight hackathon and got the opportunity to compete and showcase their skills were one of the highlights. In its most basic form, Zealicon was a cultural spectacle. The festival included a variety of activities designed to increase students' confidence and demonstrate their abilities and skills. The Traditional Walk was one of the most anticipated and thrilling events for all participants, who were dressed elegantly in Indian ethnic attire and walked the ramp like professionals. The fervour grew even more with the Bike stunt display, which wowed the audience with its deft and dangerous stunts. Students competed in dance events with zeal, bringing rhythm and song to the festival. The audience erupted in applause for the well-coordinated and energetic performance of the flash mob. Another event which garnered a lot of attention was the Open Mic where the students and speakers alike embraced their inner poets and lyricists. The fest ended with the fantastic DJ Night which rocked the young college goers with the feet tapping beats. Zealicon filled everyone with zeal and left an indelible impression on every single heart. It turned out to be a remarkable fest, one which is going to be one of the most talked-about things for a while now and it was incredible seeing everyone take part with such vitality and enthusiasm. The mega events of the techno fest was Robowars, Robolympics, xccelarado etc. was very well conducted. Events basically consisted of manual and autonomous bots constructed by students themselves. The events so conducted to give a new exposure and enthusiasm to the students in the field of automation and robotics.
